Writing for Real Readers, Reading for Real Reasons

Holy Cross College invites you to submit a proposal for our 4th Annual Summer Literacy Workshop. As implied by the title, this year's workshop is focused on providing authentic opportunities for students to engage in literacy instruction.

THREE WAYS TO PARTICIPATE

1

45-Minute Workshop Session

Informative and engaging. In addition to content and resources, please prepare interactive elements to engage the participants.

2

Poster Presentation

Showcase original research or classroom practices. Posters must be physical; no screens will be available.

3

Panel Discussion

Join one of two lunchtime panels to field questions and discuss literacy instruction from your unique perspective.

FOCUS STRANDS

Your session or poster topic should align with one or more of the focus strands.

- Student selected reading
- Accountable talk/literacy discourse
- Writing with a purpose
- Interactive or shared reading/writing
- Peer editing or reading/teacher conferring
- Multi-modal literacy
- Play-based instruction
- Providing choice & voice
- Word play
- Active visualization during reading
